

Swift Action by Resource Solutions Team Secures Key CFO Role

Meeting Cross-border Travel Requirements

A private equity firm approached Cherry Bekaert with a pressing need for an interim CFO for one of their portfolio companies, an electronics and electro-mechanical manufacturing company (the Company). The Company's CFO had resigned to pursue new opportunities, and the Company needed time to search for a replacement. In the meantime, they required help to maintain and manage financial operations.

While 50% of the role could be done remotely, occasional travel was required for the other half. However, the location of the manufacturing and fulfillment plant across the California-Mexico border made filling the role difficult. Until a new, permanent CFO could be hired, the Company urgently needed an interim CFO.

Targeted Recruitment Strategy

As the Company's primary contact, its Private Equity Director outlined the job requirements, emphasizing the need for a qualified candidate who could handle the cross-border logistics. Given this criterion, the Recruiting & Staffing team at Cherry Bekaert (the team) took a direct approach and specifically focused on sourcing senior-level consultants with prior controllership and CFO experience who were capable and willing to travel to the Mexican plant part-time.

Despite concerns from some candidates about perceived safety issues across the border, our team successfully narrowed down the pool to two strong contenders in just 72 hours and presented them to the Company. 24 hours later, we presented the Company with two more candidates. The Company then interviewed the shortlisted candidates and selected the most suitable interim CFO, who began work soon after, contributing to the continuity of financial operations.
